TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

The European Association of Erasmus Coordinators (EAEC) runs an annual on-line survey, called ERASMUS+ Barometer, with the intention to monitor indicators related to the mobility actions of Erasmus+.

For the success of the Erasmus+ mobility, both between Programme Countries and between Programme and Partner Countries, it is crucial to receive direct feedback from all stakeholders involved in the programme. Although it is not an official survey of the European Commission, it can still provide data which complements official reports. Therefore, the European Commission supports this initiative and continues to look forward to its results on an annual basis.

It will be our pleasure to discuss with you the analysis of the results of the survey at various occasions, such as the annual EAEC congress ERACON and at the EAIE conference. This will allow us to further develop and improve the programme together, where necessary.

The continuous enhancement of the programme is indeed our main priority, especially in the light of the 30th anniversary of Erasmus+ and the upcoming mid-term review of the Erasmus+ programme.

Yours sincerely,
Adam Tyson
